INTERESTING CASE - Eliza Sickles who, for 16 years, has been a convict on Blackwell's Island in terms varying from 60 days to 6 months, was, on Thursday, placed on board the ship Orleans to return to her children in New Orleans, who have written for her and will gladly receive her back. Until the New-York Prison Association took up her case, she had never had a friendly hand extended to her, and from want of a home and friends, has been compelled to linger out these 16 years in prison. This is but one of many cases that are being cared for by this Association. The Chaplain at Blackwell's Island wrote to her relatives about her, and received snawer immediately that they would gladly re, ceive and give her a home. This seemed to revive up her extinguished hopes, and she is now on her way to friends from whom she has so long been a wretched outcast. ROBSERY OF MR. KEEP.-The robbers who hoped to carry off $36,000 from this gentleman were disappointed by the prodence of his wife. Mr. K. is a traveling Agent or Collector between some of the Banks of Canada West and this City, and had occasion to leave his wife at Kingston with the above large sum in her charge. She went to visit some of her friends, but took the money with her, and the villains who broke open her trunk at the botel were able to plunder it of nothing but clothing. They have since been arrested.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND .- The Island has at presest less than one-third its Winter population. The fact is to be attributed in a great measure to the unfortunate vagrant population of our City being less necessitated as

The Committee reported nominations for the various Judicial officers within this District, and letters were read from some of the nominees declining a nomination whereupon their places were filled by the meeting, and the following list was unanimously adopted :

nomination of Judges of the Court of Appeals, as a candidate from this District, to be elected as a Judge of that Court.

The following Address to the Electors of this District was read and adopted, and ordered to be published with the proceedings of this meeting: ADDRESS

To the Electors of the First Judicial District of the State of

New York.
You are shortly to be called upon to perform a duty of a momentous character. You are to select from the body of the community a certain number of men who may in the course of the changes and chances of time act directly upon your property, your liberty, or your lives, before the power to correct any error in your selection can, under the Constitution, return to you.

The average of the elective franching is certainly al-would you feel more secure in the hands of the learned and the upright who will be free from all such undue coërcion or influence.

Certain of the Electors of this Judicial District having, from professional position, an additional interest in this subject, assembled themselves under a piedge which they hope will commend their suggestions to their fellow electors in this important matter. The result of their deliberations is now before you. They have selected gentlemen of integrity and learning. They do not pretend that they are the most worthy; they have a proud consciousness that their equals, perhaps their superiors, are to be found in that body from which the selection has been made.

They are, however, in their judgment, good men and true, to whose Judicial shility and integrity they would willingly trust their own rights and liberties, and as such they recommend them to their fellow citizens.

The following gentlemen were thereupon appointed

Movements of Gen. Scott.

From the Union.

We understand there is no sort of foundation for the statement which is made in the Washington correspondence of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Wednesday, and in the Baltimore Clipper of this morning, that orders have been sent to Gen. Scott to halt for the present at Jalapa. No such consultation is believed to have taken place in the cabinet on the lith, as is alleged in the Baltimore Clipper, nor has any order of this sort been issued "since the 7th instant," as stated in the New-York Journal. In fact, no one doubts that Gen. Scott will push on to the capital, and that he will take it, before any orders could have been sent to him subsequent to the 7th inst. We know that he has already passed Jalapa and arrived even at Perote. By this time, in all probability, he is "treading the imperial capital of the Artecs."

No Extra Sassion .- In reference to the rumor that an Extra Session of Congress was soon to be called. the Union says:

the Union says:

We are utterly at a loss to know how such a rumor got into circulation. There is not the slightest foundation for it. No such decision had been made by the President and Cabinet; and we renture to assert that no such lides has ever entered into their minds. Why should Congress be called? The administration have money, men and munitions, sufficient to carry en the war with glory and success, and unless Mexico be infamated, to negotiate an honorable peace. At home, the reforms which Congress have adopted in our financial system are developing their benefits by the energies of the machinery which Congress have already established.
